POLITICAL PARADE

By CLEM WHITAKER

While Federal taxes are the highest in the Nation's history, and will probably go still higher, due to the tremendous demands of global war, state and county taxes in California show a very encouraging downward trend this year!

The authority for that statement is the California Taxpayers association which has just concluded a thorough going study of local tax rates.

Of the 58 counties, 50 reduced their general county-wide tax rates during 1943, according to the finding of Paul V. Lane, assistant director for the association. In three other counties, rates were unchanged—and only five counties showed tax rate increases.

The most important factor contributing to the reduction in county rates reports Mr. Lane, was the assumption by the state of a larger share of the cost of aged aid. While old age pensions were increased from the former maximum of $40 per months to the present top of $50, the state picked up a bigger share of the load—and the counties are now contributing only $5 per case instead of $10.

Other factors contributing to a downward revision of county tax rates, according to the survey, include a sharp drop in indigent aid, resulting from greatly improved economic conditions; loss of public service personnel to the armed services and war plants, and the postponement of building program and other capital outlay items, due to priorities and the scarcity of materials.

The war has brought many other changes which relieved the strain on county treasuries, Mr. Lane reports in the October issue of Tax Digest. Unemployment is virtually non-existent. Tax delinquency is at a very low level, with a consequent reduction in office work and publication costs. Many county hospitals are experiencing declines in patient loads and clinic attendance together with better collections from pay patients.

Then, too—and this factor must not be under-rated—public demands for lower local taxes, as an offset to staggering increases in Federal taxes, have brought beneficial results.

The state tax burden has also dropped materially, due to reductions in the state in-lome tax, state sales tax and other state taxes. And all in all, the picture is much improved, although the Taxpayers association comments that "the field for cutting state and local spending is only scratched."

Perhaps the most encouraging aspect of the whole situation is that it proves that taxes CAN be reduced. California now has dollar-and-cents evidence that the miracle has been performed. And with that evidence in hand, tax-conscious groups are expected to put new steam behind the drive on Congress for cuts in non-essential Federal spending, too.

Fire Damages Botts Garage

Tuesday afternoon about 5 o'clock, fire broke out in a small shed attached to the rear of the Botts garage on South Central avenue, where gasoline, sawdust and machinery parts were stored.

The blaze was quickly subdued after the arrival of the fire department and although the shed was demolished, damage was mainly confined to that part.

Aid from workers in nearby plants assisted in removing automobiles and other property from the danger zone.

Kiwanians Hear Interesting Talk On Magnesium

Dr. Don Fowler, chemical engineer for the Permanente Metals corporation, gave a comprehensive account of the manufacture of magnesium from the first intricate process to the final product, when he addressed the Kiwanis club Tuesday.

Final Rites for Mary A. Lanphear Held This Morning

In the passing of Mrs. Mary A. Lanphear on October 26, Campbell lost a citizen who had been one of the most earnest workers for its advancement and welfare.

The accident which resulted in her death occurred Saturday, Oct. 16 and from which she really never rallied. Struck by an automobile at the Campbell avenue crossing at Harrison, she suffered a broken hip and shock, which her age made doubly serious.

Mary Maxson was born in Lima, Wisconsin on April 4, 1865. In 1885 she was married to Emory Lanphear at Parsons, Kansas and they resided at Kansas City and St. Louis. After the death of her son, Orin, a young man of college age, she came to San Jose and in January, 1912, when her sisters, Miss Sadie Maxson and Mrs. Gertrude Stanford came to Campbell and entered the hotel business she moved here, and has made this her home since.

The three sisters were members of the Christian church in San Jose for some years, but later Mrs. Lanphear and Miss Maxson transferred to the Campbell Congregational church, where they have been among the most earnest workers, Mrs. Lanphear serving as a deaconess.

For a number of years she was an active member of the chamber of commerce, as chairman of the membership committee. As a member of the Country Woman's club she worked ardently for the present library building and later was made an honorary member in recognition of her activities.

She is survived by her son, Ethan Lanphear of Campbell, her sisters, Miss Maxson of Campbell and Mrs. Stanford of Oakland, a brother, Dr. J. S. Maxson of Myrtle Creek, Oregon, and a step daughter, Mrs. Veda Lanphear Martin of San Gabriel, daughter-in-law, Ellen Lanphear and two grandsons, George Lanphear of Saratoga and Lt. Byron Lanphear of the U. S. Army.

Funeral rites were held this morning from the Rutherford Funeral Home, with Rev. J. H. Bennett and Rev. D. H. Baldwin officiating. Mrs. Rex Fuller sang "Sweetly Resting" and "The Christian's Goodnight," with Mrs. Virginia Rutherford, organist.

Pall bearers were T. A. Cutting, C. B. Field, J. C. Agostinho, G. S. Robson, J. E. Murdock and G. E. Farley, and interment was in Los Gatos cemetery.

Last week 5138 ration books 4 were issued to residents of the Campbell Union Grammar school district. This does not really indicate the population of the district as families living in the Byerly tract in Burbank registered at the Burbank school, since the children of that section were transferred to Burbank when school began in September.

HALLOWE'EN

"The goblins will get you if you don't watch out!"

Which is just another way of saying that, war or no war, the season for witches and goblins and black cats better known as Hallowe'en, will soon be upon us.

And as usual, we can expect the vigor and enthusiasm of the younger generation to be generously expended in helping the "dwellers of the dark" to carry out their mystic rites.

Last year the young people and children were appealed to not to carry out the usual Hallowe'en pranks of window soaping and other things that create work for people now burdened with extra war work and other duties resulting from labor shortage.

The response as most gratifying and the youth received many thanks for their patriotic cooperation.

This year the situation is even more acute and the same request is being made again here and in San Jose.

It should be noted that federal authorities and other officers are discouraging the use of Hallowe'en masks and disguises during the war emergency.

"WAR" GASOLINE

Mr. Motorist, attention!

It may be necessary for you to have the motor in your car adjusted if you are to get the best results from the gasoline soon to be marketed.

Quality—as well as quantity—of gas is definitely going down for the duration. That's official. The octane content may go as low as that in the cheapest present grade of gasoline.

This means that high-compression motors, which practically all cars now have, will require some adjustment for efficient results. Retarding the spark may be enough, but adjustment of the carburetor and other changes might be necessary.

It is estimated that the new gasoline will give about 20 per cent less mileage. If you're getting around 15 now, it may drop to 12 or less. It would appear that war workers and other essential drivers will need more gas to offset the decline in performance.

As far as the average motorist is concerned, we'll be turning back the calendar a couple of decades in car performance. With the new gas in its veins your car will take longer to warm up in the morning. Quick starts will be "less quicker," and hills will ask for more lower gear driving.

Anyway, the "war" gas will give our motors something to "ping" about.

A NEW SNAP IN THE OLD GARTER

If your socks droop, your suspenders sag and your wartime girdle does less for your figure than it should, don't give up hope. Relief is near.

The WPB has removed all restrictions from the manufacture of elastic thread made from synthetic rubber.

That means that the manufacturers of garters, galluses, girdles and similar appurtenances, can again resume their joint responsibility as the great support of the American people.

So much depended upon so little, and few of us realized it until that little bit of elastic was gone. Its absence has caused strong men to shrink in embarrassment and pretty women to blush in confusion.

The WPB statement said that the return of elastic thread might be a little slow at first. But it emphasized that return it would. And most of us won't care whether the snap in the old garter is due to synthetic or natural rubber, just so long as the snap is there.

NAVY DAY

Navy Day in 1943, which was yesterday, Oct. 27, had a greater significance than ever before. This is true not only because we have a bigger Navy than ever before—the largest in world history—but because it is doing one of the greatest jobs any navy was ever called upon to do.

Since July of 1940, right after the fall of France, our Navy has grown from 1076 vessels, including 383 warships, to over 14,000 with more than 600 fighting ships. Navy planes number 18,000 as against 1700 three years ago.

After the attack at Pearl Harbor, our Navy literally rose from the dead to defend America against her enemies. From those dark days early in the war when the Axis taunted, "Where is the American Fleet?", our men in blue have fought their way back along a hard, uphill road to smash the Nips back at Midway, crush them in the Coral Sea and drive them into hiding. Now the question is, Where is the Japanese fleet?

In this global war it's the Navy that has to get our fighting men to the fronts, cover their landings and proect them from counter-attack.

But what of our Navy after victory? Are we going to let it become obsolete? We Americans are peace-loving people but past experience warns us to keep our great fleet in good trim as long as there is any possible danger that we again may be called upon to take up arms in defense of democracy.

To the men of the sea who are carrying the fight to the enemy wherever he may be found, we salute them for a great job done, and with confidence that they are fully equal to the greater task that lies ahead.

CENSORING THE CENSORS

The War Department asks anyone finding remarks added by censors in letters received from soldiers to report the incident to the Adjutant General. It says:

"Censorship of communications to and from persons under military jurisdiction is a necessity in war time to prevent the disclosure of information which would give aid and comfort to the enemy.

"The War Department has never intended that privacy of the mail should be invaded beyond this absolute necessity for security."

Some of the remarks added by the censors have been witty or intended to cheer. But in too many instances, the censors have taken it upon themselves to scribble caustic comment on a soldier's letter that caused nothing but heartburn to the folks at home.

In clapping the new censorship on those who must read soldiers' mail, the War Department has doubtless won the gratitude of many who have hitherto had good reason to feel that their personal news was scarcely personal by the time it reached its destination.

STATUE OF LIBERTY

Fifty-seven years ago today in 1886, the towering, majestic figure symbolizing liberty and the lasting friendship between America and France was unveiled in New York Harbor before one million people.

The nearly three score years that have elapsed since that day have brought saddening changes in the world, but the Statue still stands, liberty still lives, and the friendship between the two great nations goes on in spite of Nazi oppression that seeks to crush the very soul of France.

To the millions of immigrants who have poured through the portals of America from Europe, the Statue of Liberty has symbolized the freedom to live, to speak, to worship according to the dictates of their own hearts. To them it has meant opportunity such as they could never experience in the lands from which they came.

Today, more that ever, the Statue of Liberty embodies the courage and determination of free men the world over to hold aloft the torch of freedom so that all may walk in the light of true liberty.

Chest Campaign Still In Progress

The Campbell War and Chest Fund campaign is still in progress but most reports have not been turned in as yet. However, from one or two that have been made the results were rather discouraging, as so many homes reported that their contributions had been made elsewhere.

This same problemwas met in the recent bond drive, but the manager, Mrs. G. E. Jeffers and the solicitors are making every possible effort to see that no one is overlooked.

If any one is not contacted, contributions may be left at the Campbell Water company office, with E. E. Lanphear, or Mrs. Jeffers.

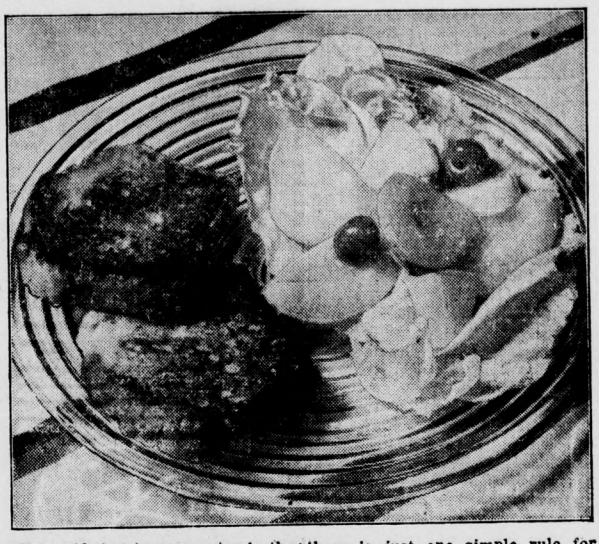
Toast is a Host in Itself!



IT is said that in no country in the world is toast so popular as in the United States. The reason, no doubt, is because toast is so quick to come to the aid of the clever homemaker. As a nation we welcome anything that simplifies and adds variety to living.

Toast offers a firm foundation for many an appetizing and substantial dish . . . creamed mushrooms, chicken, tuna fish. Toast is a host in itself when served with fruit salad, supplying many of the food elements that complement the vitamins and minerals contained in the fruit and lettuce.

Topped with a sweet spread, toast with tea provides the quick pick-up for flagging energy.

There is as much variety in "toasts" as there are breads, and no matter what bread is chosen, there is just one simple rule for toast-making. Toast it quickly so that it will be crisp on the outside but soft in the center.

Cut fresh from the loaf and crisped in the toaster—orange bread toast is delicious and the perfect accompaniment to a fruit salad. Made with the new blended shortening it fairly melts in the mouth.

Orange Bread

¼ cup blended shortening
½ cup sugar
1 egg
2 cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
¾ cup orange juice
3 tbs. orange rind

Cream blended shortening and sugar. Add egg, mixing thoroughly. Sift flour, baking powder, salt together. Add alternately with orange juice. Fold in grated orange rind. Do not overmix. Make in an 8x5½x2½ loaf pan in a moderate oven (350°F.) for 1 hour.

Our Merchant Marine

The China Trade
Seal and Otter pelts, from the West and Northwest Coasts of the Americas were the basis of our early commerce with China.
Twelve great Chinese merchants held the monopoly for trade with "foreign devils", permitted only at Canton. Here furs were exchanged for tea, chinaware and textiles.
CANTON SCENE
The "Empress of China" was the first American vessel to sail direct to China in 1784.
But the first really fast vessel for the China trade was built in 1844 and was named "HOUQUA" after the favorite Canton merchant.
Her first cargo was tea and firecrackers!

Tubs for Yanks

Detachable 'belly tanks' or auxiliary gasoline containers used by Japanese airmen to stretch the flight radius of their combat planes are proving a boon to Yankee soldiers in the Solomon islands. These supplementary fuel containers which are dropped as soon as their gas load is exhausted, are being picked up by the Americans, cut in half and put into service as bath tubs in the otherwise tubless jungle areas.

Taxes Are Payable

Ed. J. Ferguson, county tax collector, announces that his office staff is busily engaged in preparing for mailing some seventy odd thousand tax bills to Santa Clara county taxpayers. All bills should be in the taxpayer's hands by the first of November. Any one who has not received his tax bills by this date should get in touch with Mr. Ferguson's office located in the Hall of Justice, San Jose.

Taxes may be paid by mail using the return envelope for check or money order, by which Mr. Ferguson says approximately eighty per cent are paid.

All taxpayers who have moved or repurchased property since the first Monday of March, should make sure that their new address appears on the assessment roll as no responsibility is assumed by the tax collector for failure to receive tax bill if the address is erroneous or does not appear thereon. Prompt notification to the tax collector's office of any change in address makes the pre-mailing of tax bills a satisfactory service.

Mr. Ferguson will be at the Campbell Water company office Nov. 1, from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. for those who wish to pay their taxes at that time.

The Red Cross wishes it publicized that it is not a member of the War Chest and so is not participating in this campaign. The Red Cross will conduct its fund-raising drive next March.

TIME FOR CHOW, MATEY

Married members of the service men's Mate and Checkmate Club in the USO at Wa[illegible]gar, Ill., are having lessons in baby care, and here Nurse Sally Meyers of the Great Lakes Veterans' Hospital shows how to feed a young lady. Bathing, dressing, and making formulas for the baby are other parts of the course. Service men take the job very seriously, as the picture indicates.

Christmas Mails In November

The postmaster general has issued a bulletin regarding Christmas mailing in which this paragraph is printed in bold type.

"The war has dislocated the Christmas mailing season. This year, November is the time for mailing Christmas gifts and cards. Gifts should be marked, "Do Not Open Until Christmas."

Use zone numbers for all cities where they have been established.

The department urged the same thing last year and states that the public did start its mailing earlier than usual, but that volume was small and there was a deluge of later mailings, with the result that many cards and gifts were not received until after Christmas.

The reasons are that railway cars and airplanes available for Christmas mail are far below normal; more than 30 thousand postal employes are in the armed forces and only a small number of experienced extras are not otherwise employed.

School Days

When our fighters fly at 400 miles an hour with a Jap Zero or a Messerschmidt on their tails there isn't much time for cogitation so the Army and the Navy show as many motion pictures of actual dog fights and air battles as possible to our student fliers.

Pictures of trainer flights, bombing flights and flights by fighters are all a part of the routine for our student pilots and must be drilled into them just as it is necessary for us to remind ourselves daily of the necessity to buy an extra $100 Bond in September.

You will help won't you?

Never has there been more suffering in this world. Never have so many war-broken people looked to America...to YOU...for help. In past years you may have given to several or many war relief agencies. This year you give ONCE for ALL these agencies when you give to your local War Chest and through it to the National War Fund. Your dollars go to seventeen participating war relief services now combined with your own local agencies in this nationwide drive.

Some of your dollars will go to the USO to comfort and entertain men of the armed forces.

Some of it will go to lend a helping hand to our sailors of the Merchant Marine.

Some of it will help ease the suffering and hunger of our stricken allies and help support hospitals and children's homes...both here and abroad.

Some of it will go to local welfare agencies and help care for those in need in your own community.

Some of it will bring cheerful remembrance to our lonesome war prisoners in Japan and Germany.

Make your gift this year large...large enough to go around. At least give double what you gave last year. The need is many times greater.
